NOBLES COUNTY HISTORY

The first settlers to Worthington were attracted by the prospect of bountiful harvests from these fertile prairies and, of course, beautiful Lake Okabena. In the Dakota language, Okabena means "nesting place of herons." It was transportation, however, that was responsible for the founding of the city in 1871 with the coming of the Sioux City and St. Paul railroads. Transportation continues to play a vital role with Interstate 90 intersecting with U.S. Highway 59 and Minnesota Highway 60.

Today, Worthington has more than 20 parks, many of them located around 785-acre Lake Okabena. Chautauqua, Centennial and Olson Park Campground are three of the largest. Chautauqua and Centennial have shelter houses with water, electricity and restrooms, and are located near the boat landings, softball fields and tennis courts. Olson Park Campground has electrical hookups, a shelter house and shower/restroom facilities.

The city supports a complete, regional shopping center. Businesses are located in the City Center, along Oxford Street, North Humiston Avenue, Ryan's Road and the Beltline. A community and technical college, regional hospital, specialty clinics and an up-to-date airport are located here. Amenities include eight motels, travel plazas, restaurants, theaters, museums, Pioneer Village, sports and recreation centers, an 18-hole golf course and a performing arts auditorium.

ROCK COUNTY HISTORY

Located in the southwest corner of Minnesota, Rock County introduces visitors to the rolling prairie. The Sioux quartzite cliff-lines and herds of bison can be viewed at Blue Mounds State Park. Hundreds of thousands of acres of rich cropland support farming operations using state-of-the-art technology while focusing on diversity of operations. The county seat, Luverne, became known world-wide as one of the four cities featured in historian Ken Burns' 2007 documentary of WWII - "THE WAR."

The Rock County Veterans Memorial Building (a $4.5 million renovation of the "old county jail") features two floors of exhibit space expanding on the stories of soldier citizens and citizen soldiers of "The Greatest Generation." A historic downtown, growing fine arts community, turn-of-the century movie & performance theatre, state-of-the-art drive-in theatre, and storied history museums bring visitors from far and wide. Experience Rock County for a day and stay for a lifetime - we welcome you to our community... our place in the world... a little bit of "heaven".
